MEMBER STATE: CROATIA

GENERAL COMMENTS:

Please find our preliminary comments on the Proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on statistics on agricultural input and output below:

Croatia supports the Proposal as part of the future legislative framework defining statistical information on agriculture and underpinning the agricultural policy of the EU. We welcome the initiative to streamline the European agricultural statistics system, legally regulate the full scope of produced statistics in this area and ensure long-term flexibility as a prerequisite for maintaining and extending the leading position in provision of statistical information supporting the EU agricultural policy.

In order to contribute to the upcoming discussions about the Proposal, we would like to ask that issue of adequate Union contribution for necessary adaptations of national statistical systems for full implementation of the Regulation is addressed.

Regarding the scope of proposed data requirements, we would like to raise the issue of statistics on nutrients and plant protection products as a complex topic requiring development of data sources. Special consideration should be given to proposed inclusion of coefficients as non-statistical data to statistical data requirement.

Looking at the proposed delegation of powers to the Commission, we advocate for definition of clear and structured framework that will allow for appropriate planning and adequately managed response to introduced changes, while providing sufficient possibility for taking into consideration new user demands and development of polices at EU level. Delegated or implementing acts adopted by the Commission as a result of established delegation of power should not, by the way of significantly increased burden, bring into question the quality of overall statistics both newly developed and already established.

We reserve the right to submit further comments or adjust our position depending on the course of upcoming discussions.

production and use of milk and milk products. Statistics on the area, yield and production of arable crops, vegetables, various permanent crops and grasslands and commodity balances are also important. Increasingly, statistics on the sales and use of plant protection products and fertilisers are needed.
(4) An international evaluation of agricultural statistics led to the creation of a global strategy to improve agricultural and rural statistics of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations that was endorsed by the United Nations Statistics Committee in 2010. European agricultural statistics should, where appropriate, follow the recommendations of that global strategy.

develop, produce and disseminate European statistics based on common statistical principles. Regulation (EC) No 223/2009 establishes quality criteria and refers to the need to minimise the response burden on survey respondents and to contribute to the more general objective of reducing the administrative burdens.
(6) The strategy on agricultural statistics for 2020 and beyond ⁽²⁾ , endorsed by the European Statistical System Committee ('ESSC') in November 2015, envisages the adoption of two framework regulations covering all aspects of EU legislation on agricultural statistics, with the exception of the economic accounts for agriculture. (7) European statistics on agricultural inputs and outputs are currently collected, produced and disseminated on the basis of a number of legal acts. This structure does not provide proper consistency across the individual statistical domains, nor does it promote an integrated approach towards the development, production and dissemination of agricultural statistics. This Regulation should replace those legal acts for the purposes of harmonisation and comparability of information, and to ensure consistency and coordination across European agricultural statistics, facilitate the integration and streamlining of the corresponding statistical processes, and enable a more holistic approach. It is therefore necessary to repeal Regulations (EC) No 1165/2008⁽⁴⁾, (EC) No 543/2009⁽⁵⁾ and (EC) No 1185/2009 of the European Parliament and of the Council

The numerous related European Statistical System (ESS) agreements and gentlemen's agreements on data transmission should be integrated into this Regulation where there has been evidence that the data fulfil user needs, that the agreed methodology works and that the data are of appropriate quality.

(9) A large part of the European agricultural area consists of grasslands. The production of those areas was not considered to be important in the past, so no production data have been included in crop statistics. As the impact of grasslands and ruminants on the environment has become more important due to climate change, statistics on grassland production and animal grazing are needed.
(10) For the purposes of harmonisation and comparability of information on agricultural input and output with information on the structure of agricultural holdings and to further implement the strategy on agricultural statistics for 2020 and beyond, this Regulation should complement Regulation (EU) 2018/1091.

Council ⁽⁹⁾ does not cover agricultural price statistics, but their availability and coherence with the economic accounts for agriculture ('EAA') should be ensured. As the EAA are a satellite account of national accounts, it is not appropriate to include agricultural price statistics in Regulation (EC) No 138/2004. Statistics on agricultural input and output should therefore cover statistics on agricultural input prices that are coherent with the EAA. Absolute agricultural output price data should be available in Member States to allow EAA calculations and comparable price indices. and of the Council ⁽¹¹⁾ should be used in accordance with the relevant provisions of that Directive and of that Regulation for the purposes of the requirements of this Regulation.

(13) Comparable statistics from all Member States on agricultural input and output are important to determine the development of the CAP. Standard classifications and common definitions should therefore be used insofar as possible for variables.
(14) The data needed to compile statistics should, where possible, be collected in a manner with the least costs and administrative burden. It is therefore necessary to identify possible owners of sources of the required data and ensure that these can be used for statistics.
(15) The datasets to be transmitted cover several statistical domains. In order to maintain a flexible approach that allows the statistics to be adapted when data requirements change, only the domains, topics and detailed topics should be specified in the basic regulation, with the detailed data sets specified in implementing acts.

(16) Organic production is becoming increasingly important as an indicator of sustainable agricultural production systems. It is therefore necessary to ensure that available statistics on organic farming are consistent with other agricultural production statistics by integrating those in the datasets. Those organic production statistics should also be coherent with and use the administrative information produced under Regulation (EU) 2018/848 of the European Parliament and of the Council ⁽¹²⁾ .

(17) In accordance with Regulation (EC) No 1059/2003 of the European Parliament and of the Council ⁽¹³⁾ , territorial units should be defined in accordance with the Nomenclature of Territorial Units for Statistics ('NUTS') classification.
(18) It should be possible to collect data on ad- hoc subjects related to agricultural input and output at a specific time in order to supplement the data collected on a regular basis with complementary data on subjects that require more information, emerging phenomena or innovations
(19) In order to decrease the administrative burden on Member States, exemptions from certain regular transmissions of data should be allowed if Member States' contributions to the EU total for these data are low.

(20) In order to improve the efficiency of the statistical production processes of the ESS and to reduce the administrative burden on respondents, national statistical institutes ('NSIs') and other national authorities should have the right to access and use, promptly and free of charge, any administrative data that are gathered for public purposes, irrespective of whether they are held by public or private bodies. NSIs and other national authorities should also be able to integrate those administrative data with statistics, to the extent that such data are necessary for developing, producing and disseminating European agricultural statistics, in accordance with Article 17a of Regulation (EC) No 223/2009.
(21) Member States or responsible national authorities should endeavour to modernise data collection modes insofar as possible. The use of digital solutions should be promoted.

The quality, and in particular the accuracy, timeliness and comparability of statistics based on these sources, should always be ensured.

(24) Regulation (EC) No 223/2009 provides for a reference framework for European statistics and requires Member States to comply with the statistical principles and quality criteria specified in that Regulation. Quality reports are essential for assessing, improving and communicating the quality of European statistics. The ESSC has endorsed the single integrated metadata structure as the ESS standard for quality reporting, thereby helping to satisfy, through uniform standards and harmonised methods, the statistical quality requirements laid down in Article 12 (3) of Regulation (EC) No 223/2009. (26) Since the objective of this Regulation, namely the systematic production of European statistics on agricultural input and output in the Union, cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States because a coordinated approach is required, but can rather, by reasons of consistency and comparability, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality as set out in that article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve that objective.

Member State experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.
(28) In order to ensure uniform conditions for this Regulation's implementation, the Commission should be given implementing powers to specify the datasets linked to the topics and detailed topics listed in the Annex and the technical elements of the data to be provided, to establish the lists and descriptions of the variables and other practical arrangements for the collection of ad hoc data, and to set out the practical arrangements for and contents of the quality reports. Croatia proposes the change of the deadline for adoption of implementing acts from 9 to minimum 12 months before the beginning of the reference year. Definition of above listed elements less than a year before implementation of introduced changes could lead to problems in preparation of new activities.
10. Member States shall transmit pre-checked data and related metadata using a technical format specified by the Commission (Eurostat) for each data set. The single entry point services shall be used to transmit the data to the Commission (Eurostat).
